My Name is Theodore Burnett, D.D.S. I have been involved in the practice of dentistry for nearly thirty years. During this same period I have designed and built several successful dental practices. On each occasion when a dental design and office development plan was necessary I turned to Bob Mothershead for consultation and help.

Bob is without question the absolute best in this industry. He is honest, fair, and very well informed in the things necessary for your success in dentistry. However, the most important characteristic Bob will bring to you is vision. As our profession continually changes Mr. Mothershead remains on the cutting edge of all things in dentistry. Having Bob as a member of your team is simply a must.

Becoming the best in this or any industry is only possible with the right team. Bob has just the right team member in Robin Janowski. Robin is simply and absolutely a genius with space management and development and office color coordination. Robin will create a dental office and treatment area that patient will relax and be ready to say yes to treatment even before meeting you.

Adding Bob Mothershead and Robin Janowski to your team is your absolute best decision towards dental success.
